DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-3, 6, 7, 9, 10, and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Scudder (5,979,164), which shows all of the claimed limitations. Scudder shows a container 310 and insert 316 for heating or cooling contents including a peripheral wall with two sections of different diameters and a perpendicular section (fig. 13), an open end and smaller diameter closed end (fig. 13), and wherein the insert is produced from metal by deep-drawing (col. 2, lines 13-20).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 3743

4. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

5. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

6. Claims 4, 5, 8, 11, 12, and 14-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Scudder (5,979,164), which discloses substantially all of the claimed limitations. Scudder does not specifically recite two deep-drawing steps or the use of plastic coated packaging steel.

- a. As regards plural deep-drawing steps, the number of steps is purely based on the desired shape of the insert, which in turn is based on pure design choice in the absence of any criticality for the desired shape. Further, a method of plural deep-drawing steps is an extremely broad recitation that reads on an entire subclass, namely subclass 349 in class 72 (349 ... Plural deep drawing).

Accordingly, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to incorporate the two deep-drawing steps into the invention disclosed by Scudder, so as to produce the desired shape and design of the insert.

b. As regards the use of plastic coated packaging steel, Official Notice is given that the use of plastic coated packaging steel is old and well known in the art. Such an arrangement has the clear and obvious benefit of providing for high heat tolerance and insulation. Further, applicant has failed to show any criticality why this particular material is preferred or necessary. Accordingly, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to incorporate the use of plastic coated packaging steel into the invention disclosed by Scudder, so as to provide for high heat tolerance and insulation.
